George Coffee, a Quaker.

According to the Orphans' Court Record in 1786, Priscilla was a minor over fourteen, and James, Isaac and Jonathan were under fourteen years of age.

In the Records of Gloucester County, New Jersey at Woodbury, Deed Book D, Page 327, is a Deed dated May 30, 1800, made by ---

1. George Coffee, of Southwark, Phila., tanner and Currier and Grace his wife.

2. Priscilla, wife of Elias Morris of New Britain, Bucks Co., Penna hatter.

3. Isaac Coffee of Southwark - Cooper - and Mary, his wife.

4. Jonathan Coffee of Southwark, blacksmith, mentioned as only children and heirs of James Coffee late of Philadelphia, blacksmith - deceased - who died intestate, owning property in Camden, New Jersey.

The marriage of Priscilla Coffee (Coffey) and Elias Morris appears in the Swedes' Church Record under date of Aug. 8, 1791.

Isaac Z. Coffee was married twice. His first wife was Mary Dare. (Note: His brother Jonathan, married Sarah Dare). Isaac Z. and Mary (Dare) Coffee had children:

Maria Coffee.

Jonathan Coffee.

Mary Coffee.

Of the above family, Maria Coffee married John C. Cann. They had no children.

Jonathan Coffee (son of Isaac and Mary) married a Philadelphia lady and had three children:

Edward Coffee.

Robert Coffee.

Henry Coffee.

Edward and Henry live in Philadelphia (1890).

Robert died a few years prior to 1890, in Lynn Massachusetts, leaving children.

Mary Coffey (daughter of Isaac and Mary) was unmarried, and died about 1884, aged 80 years.

Isaac Z. Coffee married secondly, Hannah Fithian.

They had children:

Hannah Coffee.

Hester Coffee.

William Coffee.

Abigail Coffee.

James Coffee.

Priscilla Coffee.

Rebecca Coffee.

Of the above family, Hannah Coffee married James Smashey.

They had six children. Only one, Isaac C. Smashey is living. (1890).

On February 13, 1892, Hannah E. Smashey, widow of James Smashey died at Salem, New Jersey, in her 87th year.

On November 18, 1891, Isaac C. Smashey, Jr. married Carrie C. Johns, of Kent County, Maryland. They reside in Philadelphia.

Rebecca Coffee (daughter of Isaac and Hannah) is unmarried. She is in her 84th year (1890) and lives with her sister, Abigail.

Hester Coffee (daughter of Isaac and Hannah) married Boston Gosling. They are both deceased. They left five children:

John Gosling.

Hannah Gosling.

Thomas Gosling.

Isaac Gosling, all living.

The origin in New Jersey of the Goslin family is referred to in Clement's First Emigrant Settlers, p. 80-353.

William Coffee (son of Isaac and Hannah) died in 1876 at Philadelphia leaving a widow and three children:

- Charles Coffee.
- Rebecca Coffee.
- Samuel Coffee.

They reside at Beverly, New Jersey.

On January 22nd, 1892, Jane S., widow of William Coffee died in her 81st year at Beverly, New Jersey.

Abigail Coffee (daughter of Isaac and Hannah) married David Sparks. They have four children living:

- Anna Sparks.
- David Sparks.
- Alfred Sparks.
- Louisa Sparks.

David Sparks was living in 1890.

November 8th, 1891, William B. (son of David H. and Annie Sparks) died aged 25 years. (Red Bank, Gloucester Co., New Jersey.) See Newspapers.

Abigail B. Sparks, wife of David Sparks, died at Salem, New Jersey, Feb. 23rd, 1892, in the 78th year of her age.

Note: The Records of Race Street Phila. Friends' Meeting contain entries of deaths of:

James Coffee, son of James, 10-26-1766 -- age 10 mo.

Mary Coffee, daughter of James, 10-24-1767.

Mary Coffee, daughter of James, 5-8-1769.

Query: To what family does this record refer?

George F. Coffee (the first mentioned) owned a property on the south side of German Street, between Second and Third Streets.

The second George F. Coffee (son of the first) became the purchaser of the premises. He is described as a Nail Manufacturer of Southwark. In the Directories, of 1803 and 1804, is the name of G.F. Coffee, Spring Nail Cutter, Middle Alley.

In the Directory of 1814, is the name of George F. Coffee, Nailer, 331 South Second Street.

Of the above family, George F. Coffee (the younger) married. His wife's Christian name was Margaret. A son, Henry J. Coffee survived him.

Margaret Coffee married David A. Emory.

Grace Coffee married John Cummings.

Sarah C. Coffee married Irey Bailey.

Mary Coffee married Henry Johnson.

Thomas A. Coffee was unmarried.

James Coffee married. His wife's Christian name was Elizabeth. He left children to survive him:

Susanna Coffee.

George F. Coffee, Jr.

William Coffee.

James W. Coffee.

Of this family, Susanna Coffee married Thomas Thorp.

George F. Coffee, Jr. married. His wife's Christian name was Elizabeth.

William Coffee married. His wife's Christian name was Ann.

James W. Coffee married. His wife's Christian name was Mary Elizabeth.

Priscilla Coffee (daughter of James and Rebecca) probably married Elias Morris.

The Family of

JONATHAN COFFEE (Son of James and Rebecca).

On November 11th, 1804, Jonathan Coffee (son of James and Rebecca Coffee) married Mary Collins, daughter of Edward and Ann Collins. (See the Collins Family). She was his second wife. His first wife was Sarah Dare, daughter of Edward and Hannah Dare. In the list of marriage Licenses granted in Pennsylvania, previous to 1790, is the entry of a license to Edmund Dare and Hannah Bell on October 12th, 1774. These may have been the parents of Sarah Dare.

Note: Isaac, brother of Jonathan Coffee, married a Mary Dare.

Jonathan Coffee was a machinist and had a shop at the Corner of Ninth Street and Ridge Avenue and later at Bush Hill. The latter was East of Seventeenth Street and extended from Hamilton to Buttonwood Streets. He had a partner named Olive Evans, the Inventor. It is related that Coffee and Evans had occasion to transport an engine that they had built for the Philadelphia Water Works, from their shop to the Schuykill River. Joseph E. Coffee (son of Jonathan) who was present related that Evans said "Jonathan, how are we to get this out to the River?" Coffee thought a while, and replied "Why, make the thing go itself." Acting upon this thought, appliances were rigged up by which the steam engine propelled itself to the River. This is said to be the first application of steam power to locomotion on land, accomplished in America, and antedates the invention of John Stevenson, Englishman.

Some accounts also claim Evans' Invention was the first application of steam to locomotion on water. See Appleton's Cyclopedia of American Biography, Westcotts' History of Philadelphia; Watson's Annals, etc.

The following is a copy of the marriage certificate of Jonathan Coffee and Mary Collins.

Burlington, Nov. 11th, 1804.

This is to certify that on this day Jonathan Coffee and Mary Collins were united in marriage according to the order observed in the Methodist Church, by me Thomas Ware, Elder of said Church.

Jonathan and Mary Coffee had the following children:

Edward Collins Coffee born August 31st, 1805, about 4 A.M. at Philadelphia. Died September 26th, 1811.

Sarah Coffee (2) born August 30th, 1814, at 3:30 P.M. at Philadelphia.

Oliver Evans Coffee born May 5th, 1816, at 3:30 P.M. at Philadelphia. Died May 7th, 1816. Buried in Free Quakers Ground in Philadelphia.

George Wayne Coffee born June 27th, 1817, at 6:20 P.M. at Philadelphia. Died June 16th, 1888, at 1:10 P.M. Buried at Oakland, California.

Mary Coffee (1) born April 27th, 1819, at 3:20 P.M. at Philadelphia. Died February 16th, 1820.

Mary Coffee (2).

Ann Elizabeth Coffee born January 1st, 1827, at Philadelphia. She died December 6th, 1892.

It will be noticed that in the above family were two named Charles, two named Sarah and two named Mary.

Joseph Ellis Coffee married twice. His first wife was a widow, Hannah E. Babcock. She died at Philadelphia at the residence of her daughter, Mary Smith.

Joseph E. and Hannah E. had children:

Joseph E. Coffee, Junior, deceased.

Charles Coffee, deceased.

Mary A. Coffee --- Died in New York May 11, 1895. Buried May 13th in Cathedral Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Of the above family, Joseph E. Coffee, Junior, was a resident of New York City, and married a widow Sarah.

Joseph and Sarah Coffee had children:

Joseph M. Coffee.

William Coffee -- both of whom are married.

This family resides in New York City.

Mary A. Coffee (daughter of Joseph E. and Hannah) married George W. Smith, who was born about 1821. They had the following children:

Ada Louise Smith.

Fannie Estelle Smith.

Emily Phillips Smith.

Annie Smith.

Francis Eugene Smith, but called William.

Mary Florence Smith, died in infancy.

Sallie Smith.

Carrie Smith.

Joseph Coffee Smith.

Of the above family, Ada Smith married Charles Mecke, and has three children.

Emily Phillips Smith married Lewis C. Vessels(?) and has children:

Lewis C. Vessels(?) is a doctor of medicine (1892).

Annie E. Smith married

William Smith died March 17th 18__, in his __1st year.

Sallie Smith married Everett L. King, of Philadelphia, January 17th 18__, at her parents' residence, in New York. They reside in New York and have one child (1895).

Joseph Ellis Coffee, Sr. (son of Jonathan and Mary) married a second time, Mary A Doty.

Joseph E. Coffee, Sr. was a machinist, Engine and Steam-boat Builder. He lived in New York City and at Keyport on Raritan Bay, Monmouth County, New Jersey. He had his business headquarters in New York.

His second wife survived him and resides in New York City (1895).

He was buried in Keyport, New Jersey.

George Wayne Coffee (son of Jonathan and Mary) married twice. His first wife was Mary M. Kolick, of Lexington, Kentucky. Their only child was Mary Ann Francis Coffee, born May 3, 1848(?) in Philadelphia. She died in California about June 1886(?), two weeks before her father's decease. Her mother died when she was about nine months old.

Mary Ann Francis Coffee married her second cousin, Samuel Phillips Van Dyke, about the Spring of 1861.

They had the following children:

(?) Josephine Van Dyke (?)

Charles Van Dyke.

William Van Dyke. Deceased.

Wallace Van Dyke.

Emma Van Dyke.

George Van Dyke.

Henry Van Dyke.

Of the above family, William and Emma married, the latter in 1889 or 1890.

In 1888, her children were living in Hayward, twenty miles from San Francisco, California.

In 1844, George Wayne Coffee married his second wife, Sarah Augusta Werner. She was born about 1826 and died 1889.

Her mother's name was Livingston -- of New York.

George W. and Sarah A. Coffee had ten children, six of whom died before the age of five years.

The following are the names of the children:

Josephine Coffee -- died aged about 19 months.

Daisy Coffee, born 1852, died 1858.

William Miles Coffee, born 1849.

George Coffee, born 1859.

Georgia Warner Coffee, born 1860.

In 1886 William Miles Coffee married May Bailey. They have children:

Frederick Bailey Coffee.

Fanny Augusta Coffee.

In 1888, William Miles Coffee resided at San Quentin, Marin County, California. In 1893 he resided in San Francisco.

George Coffee is a clerk in the London and San Francisco Bank at San Francisco, California.

In 1888 Georgia Warner Coffee married Frederick L. Stoltz. They reside (1888) at Kahului Island of Maui, H.I. sandwich Islands.

George Wayne Coffee was one of the California Pioneers. He is buried in Mountain View Cemetery, Oakland, California, where his wife, who died about two and a half years before him, is also buried.

Sarah Coffee (the second daughter of that name of Jonathan and Mary) married James Oliver Haight, Machinist, etc. Mr and Mrs. Haight took up residence in Albany, New York, where she still resides.

James Oliver Haight was born November 30th, 1805 and died August 30th, 1888, at Albany New York. He was the inventor of Patent Springs for supporting steam engines &c. and his brother-in-law Joseph E. Coffee, also manufactured them.

James O. Haight, was the son of Oliver Haight, of Coeymans, and Hannah Rowe. Oliver Haight was the son of John Haight of Little Rest, Dutchess County, New York, who was born in 1730, and died in 1804. (See Munsell's American Ancestry, Vol. I).

James O. and Sarah Haight had the following children:

Gerald Raymond Hopper born May 6, 1895.

Dorothy Hopper born January 3, 1897.

THE COLLINS FAMILY

There is doubt that our Collins family descended from Francis Collins, one of the original settlers of Burlington County, New Jersey. He was a son of Edward and Mary Collins of Oxfordshire, England, and was born January 6th, 1633. In 1663, he married Mary Mayham, and in 1687, he married a widow, Mary Goslin, nee Budd. There were children by both marriages including sons who had numerous descendents -- so numerous as to render it difficult to trace them all. It has not been ascertained where our line (that of William Collins) joins on to the above. An account of Francis Collins' family is given in Clement's First Emigrant Settlers, page 71.

The earliest record of our Collins family is in a Bible that belonged to the parents of Ann E. (Coffee) Hopper. The names first mentioned in the family Bible are those of William and Hester Collins. They had a son, Edward Collins who was born at Gloucester, New Jersey, December 25, 1749, and died October 8, 1805, and was buried in the Kensington Burial Ground.

The estate of Edward Collins appears to have been administered in Burlington County, New Jersey.

(See Records at Mount Holly - Inventory Book A, pages 59-60). An inventory of goods and chattels, in Philadelphia, was made November 2, 1805 and appraised at $163.65. Another Inventory made February 12, 1806, was appraised at $78.00, probably of goods in New Jersey. There is a blank on the record at the foot of which it is stated that on February 11, 1806, John Collins and Jona. Coffee were sworn.

On April 16, 1774, Edward Collins married Ann Hudson, who was born at Sheffield, Yorkshire, England, June 14, 1752, and died May 5, 1830.

The following is a copy of their marriage certificate which is still preserved:

These are to certify that after regular Proclamation in our Michael and Zion Churches, were married April the 16th, Anno Domini 1774, Edward Collins, of Gloucester County, and Ann Hudson, of Philadelphia, Single people. Witness the public Records of these churches, now in my hands.

Henry Muhlenberg, Jun.

Lutheran Minister at Philadelphia.

The name of Hudson appears among the ancient records of Yorkshire, England, and in various genealogical records but this particular family has not yet been located among them.

Ann Hudson came to America alone when about 16 years of age, which would be about 1778.

From the family Bible, it appears that Edward and Ann Collins had the following children:

Ruth Collins, born January 9th, 1775 at Gloucester, New Jersey, about 11 o'clock in the evening. Died at Philadelphia, March 1st, 1845.

John Collins, born Sept. 12, 1776, at Burlington, New Jersey, about two o'clock in the afternoon.

George Collins, born November 12, 1778 at Burlington, New Jersey, about six o'clock in the morning. Died May 10, 1816 in New Jersey.

William Hudson Collins, born January 16, 1780, at Burlington, New Jersey, at eleven o'clock in the morning.

Hester (or Esther) Collins born December 31, 1781, at Burlington, New Jersey, at seven o'clock in the evening. Died June 24, 1820, at Philadelphia.

Ann Collins born November 19, 1783, at Burlington, New Jersey, at seven o'clock in the evening. Died April 8, 1856, at Philadelphia.

Mary Collins, born November 11, 1785 at Burlington, New Jersey, at 8:45 o'clock in the evening. Died October 19, 1860 at Philadelphia, and was buried in Monument Cemetery.

Joseph Ellis Collins born November 11, 1787, at Burlington, New Jersey, at four o'clock in the evening. Died April 8, 1820, at Philadelphia.

Edward Collins born March 3, 1790, at Burlington, New Jersey, at 10:45 in the evening.

Francis Bullis Collins born January 2, 1795, at 10:30 o'clock in the evening at Burlington, New Jersey.

Ruth Collins (daughter of Edward and Ann) married John Hayes and had children:

Mary (Ann) Hayes.

Ann Hayes.

Moore Hayes.

Mary Hayes married Robert Riddle, and had children:

Mary Jane Riddle.

Caroline Riddle.

Robert Riddle.

Washington Riddle.

Mary Jane Riddle married Octave Brunell, and has children.

Ann Hayes (daughter of John and Ruth) married twice. Her first husband to whom she was married at the age of fifteen was _____ Brown.

The children of her first marriage were:

Anna Brown.

Elizabeth Brown.

Thomas Brown.

Of this family, Anna Brown married John Lloyd. They had six children:

Edward Lloyd ----- deceased.

William Lloyd ----- resides in New York City.

Mary Lloyd ----- deceased.

Anna Lloyd ----- resides in New York City.

John Lloyd ----- deceased.

James Lloyd.

Elizabeth Brown (daughter of Ann) married Joseph May* and had three children:

James B. May.

Thomas K. May.

Joseph May.

(?)Lavinia J. May.

Lavinia J. May married Dr. Samuel H. Moore, Dentist. She is long since deceased.

* Part of the time he shows the name as May, and again as Way.
